Our CLP-free portfolio

Benefits for employer and cleaning staff

- ✓ Products that do not require hazard labels reduce sources of danger in the workplace for end users and persons in the immediate vicinity.
- ✓ Non-hazardous products require fewer safety precautions and, where applicable, less personal protective equipment.
- ✓ Products have a potentially higher degree of innovation as it is necessary to develop a raw material composition that achieves defined cleaning performance and yet does not exceed the limits for hazard labelling.
- ✓ Employers benefit because they are not obliged to train employees every year on how to handle non-hazardous products. In contrast, annual training is obligatory for products with CLP (Classification, Labelling and Packaging) hazard warnings.
